THE REFORMERS.

Meeting of the Committee of One Hundred.

ALL THE VACANCIES FILLED

Another Meeting to Be Held This Evening When Nominations Will Be Made in Open Session.

The re was a meeting of the Nominating Committee of the Reform Association at City Hall last evening. The attendance was quite large. The meeting was not an executive one. W. F. Bosbyshell presided.

The first business transacted was to fill the vacancies in the committee, which was done. The committee, as it now stands, is as follows:

At large—W. H. Workman, Charles Taylor, L. M. Breed, Ralph Hoyt, G. Wiley Wells, H. O'Melveny, H. Simsabau, H. S. Orme, L. H. Colling, R. Pridham.

First Ward—W. A. Kennedy, A. Cherry, Dr. R. W. Merritt, C. N. East, E. M. Hamilton, K. Dunningan, Dr. W. P. Tucker, G. G. King, J. R. Summers, D. Gillette, etc.

Second Ward—D. A. Hunter, Dr. J. Kurz, J. W. Robinson, J. T. Sheward, E. G. Field, H. Susskind, C. B. Woodhead, E. Bouton, Col. Goss, H. W. Smith.

Third Ward—G. J. Griffith, W. F. Bosbyshell, E. E. Brandis, T. L. Groves, A. Branson, C. E. D. Hubbard, C. L. Stansou, J. E. Clark, J. G. Durnell, C. M. Burt.

Fourth Ward—J. H. Robison, J. B. Lankensherin, R. Horrell, R. K. McCary, A. A. Hubbard, E. E. Hewitt, H. W. Hellman, Messrs. Bradish, Pinkham and Ernest.

Fifth Ward—Messrs. Harrison, Sabichi, Standish, Lamb, Carr, Churchill, Simmons, Cushing, Brown and Woodward.

Sixth Ward—H. P. French, R. W. M. Niles, D. M. Motter, Fred, Dutton, Bartling, G. W. Hawkins, Broadwell, Royall.

Seventh Ward—Messrs. Barrows, Litchenerger, Wiseman, Roeder, Shreve and Hall.

Eighth Ward—Messrs. Langdon, Stines, Sergeant, J. H. Ross, Alred Moore, George Bush, W. L. Roscoe, Baugenter, Rebant and Sterns.

Ninth Ward—Messrs. Evans, McClure, Whitley, Foley, Campbell, Mills, Sweet, W. G. and Workman.

The selection of the committee as above named was approved.

G. J. Griffith moved that a committee of five Democrats and five Republicans be appointed to name to the Committee of One Hundred candidates for city officers outside of councilmen.

R. Dunningan opposed the motion. George Bohon moved to amend by making the committee eighteen instead of ten.

Motion of Ralph Hoyt the whole matter was finally tabled.

C. M. Wells moved that all nominations be made in open session; the nominations for the Council to be made by the delegates from the several wards.

After so little unimportant discussion the motion of Mr. Wells was adopted.

A motion made by L. M. Breed was adopted, giving the committee of ten from each of the several wards power to fill such vacancies as might occur in their several committees.

C. M. Wells moved that no one be declared the nominee of the committee unless he receive two-thirds of the vote of the committee.

H. W. Hellman moved to amend that a majority vote nominate. He thought that to adopt the third rule would be to obstruct and delay nominations too long.

Dr. Simsabau and others favored the amendment. The amendment prevailed and the original motion as amended was adopted.

George Bohon offered the following resolution:

Resolved, that after due and careful examination of the resolution passed at the last regular meeting, desiring any member of this committee from accepting a nomination for office be reconsidered.

Resolved, that we believe in municipal reform and that within the 100 delegates present there are a few men who are competent to fill some of the city offices.

The motion was laid on the table without discussion; in fact it never received a second.

Mr. Dunningan moved that the committee adjourn until Saturday evening at 7 p.m., when nominations will be made.

Mr. Hoyt said that there was a meeting called for the General Reform Association on Saturday evening. These two meetings would be inconvenient.

An amendment to fix the meeting for 7 p.m. this evening in Justice Austin's court room was accepted.

Mr. Workman was opposed to making nominations hastily. Binders would be made unless the committee was careful and deliberate in their action. He thought next Wednesday evening would be early enough to fix the time.

Mr. Dunningan then moved that the committee adjourn until next Tuesday night to meet in Justice Austin's courtroom.

Mr. Workman's amendment was voted down and the original motion was then carried. The committee then adjourned until 7:30 this evening, when nominations will be made.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Meeting of the Board of Directors Yesterday.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon, first Vice-President Hervey Lindley in the chair and directors G. M. Wells, E. W. Jones, W. H. Toler, A. W. Barrett, J. H. Book, L. N. Breed, Fred Eaton and Dr. J. P. Widney present.

Secretary Hanchette, as directed at the last meeting, presented the following resolution:

WHEREAS, the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco has urged the necessity for a Trans-Pacific cable to the Hawaiian Islands via Samoa and New Zealand, to Australia; Therefore be it,

Resolved, that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce approves of the action taken by the San Francisco committee in urging the passage of a law in Congress authorizing the survey of the Trans-Pacific submarine cable route and subsequent legislation, encouraging the formation of a company for this purpose.

Resolved, that the secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce be instructed to address the committee of the Pacific Coast members of both houses of Congress, requesting them to use their best efforts to secure the passage of such laws as may be necessary for this purpose.

The resolutions were adopted.

Mr. Jones stated that it was possible for the chamber to have the new cruiser to be built in San Francisco named after this city. He moved that the committee be appointed to draw up a petition to the Secretary of the Treasury requesting that this new cruiser be named "Los Angeles," and that the petition be circulated for signature about the city. Carried, and Messrs. Jones, Toler and Book appointed on the committee.

Dr. P. W. Widney presented the following letter, which he stated he sent to the Board of Engineers, examining the coast for a deep-sea harbor:

Col. Mendell, U. S. A.—COLONEL: Upon behalf of the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles I beg leave to ask the attention of yourself and the other gentlemen of the Harbor Commission to the following facts as concerning the proposed commercial and transoceanic port in the construction of a deep-water harbor near this city. No doubt the points which I shall enumerate have already been well weighed by you, but you will pardon this reference to them by us, as they lie within our province as commercial body.

First—The population, which within the valleys of Southern California must depend upon this harbor for its ocean outlet, is not to be estimated from the present census returns. These valleys will, within a limited number of years, contain at least a million inhabitants.

Second—Back of these are the trade lines of Southern Nevada, Southern Utah, and the great Arizona valleys, which must all, by the law of grades and shorter lines, find their outlet in this proposed port.

Third—And in, back of these is the current of transoceanic business which will seek the low passes and the short line from sea to sea, which will be found between the deep water harbor of Galveston and this which is to be constructed in Southern California. To meet the needs of the commerce which will thus be forced to seek the sea at this point will necessitate: First—Ample space for both light and deep draft vessels, both for anchorage and wharf com. Second—Ample and well-selected space for shipbuilding and repairing. Third—Ease of access and clear sea room in all kinds of weather. Fourth—To these might be added the possibility of enlarging the harbor and readily developing increased anchorage ground and wharf frontage as the future needs of commerce may demand.

With thanks for the time and care which your body has so courteously given to the subject,

I remain, very respectfully,

J. P. WIDNEY,
Chairman of Committee on Commerce.

On motion of Maj. Barrett, the action of Dr. Widney was approved.

Several other matters of minor importance were discussed, and the board adjourned.

THE FLORAL EXHIBIT.

LARGEST ATTENDANCE OF THE WEEK.

The Cut Flower Display Unusually Good—The Music Programme—Special Features for Tomorrow.

The attendance at Hazard's Pavilion was larger last night than any night since the floral exhibition opened. The following musical programme was carried out by the Arden Orchestra:

March, "Rosita" (George Schleffert.)

Overture, "Orpheus" (J. Offenbach.)

Walz, "Ango d'Amour" (E. Waldteufel.)

Selection, "Oolah" (Lecocq.) A new opera, having great success East.

The old favorite, "La Paloma" (S. V. Balfe.)

Medley of southern plantation songs (E. Bottger.)

Cello solo, Selected (Mr. B. Bierlich.)

Medley, "Traps" (Humphreys.)

Schottische, "Marriage Bells" (Len. De Witt.)

It was hoped that Col. Markham would be present, but he failed to appear and the audience amused themselves looking at the flowers. During the evening the announcement was made from the stage that the show will be continued till Saturday evening.

Yesterdays cut-flower display was unusually fine. Many new pieces from both professionals and amateurs were brought in for competition; among the most notable ones is an old-fashioned chair, gorgeously decorated in chrysanthemums of pink and magenta, by Miss Lolita Walker.

The chair itself is 130 years old, having been made by a cabinet maker by one of the early settlers of Worcester, Mass., by the name of Easton. It rests upon a platform frame covered with choice flowers, around which there is a beautiful border of amilax.

Mrs. Courtney exhibits a fine floral design in the shape of a harp resting upon a bed made of chrysanthemums. The harp is worked in roses of a delicate yellow tint interspersed with bits of amilax, making a most pleasing and harmonious effect.

The Central Park Floral Company exhibits a frame, the border of which is chrysanthemums of a bright orange color, and in the center is, delicately worked out in variegated colors of the same, the outline of a vase with bits of maiden hair fern.

A Times reporter interviewed a number of the members of the bar who heard the remarks of Judge Cheney, and almost to a man they were united in the opinion that they were entirely uncalled for and totally unnecessary.

At the conclusion of Damron's argument Stephen M. White followed him for an hour.

A recess was taken until 4:30 p.m., when Mr. Campbell closed the argument for the prosecution. After receiving their instructions the jury retired to deliberate.

The jury retired again at 7 p.m., having been taken out to dinner before the trial was opened.

At 7:45 they died into the court room.

The foreman announced that a verdict of not guilty had been arrived at.

The jury was then discharged.

Later it was ascertained that this remarkable verdict was reached upon the first ballot.

COURT NOTES.

Mur Tom was arraigned in Department One yesterday on a charge of having committed an assault with a deadly weapon.

He pleaded not guilty and his case was placed on the calendar for trial.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Lee against Mrs. Merced Abbott returned a sealed verdict yesterday morning. Owing to the fact that the verdict did not depict the jury fees, the verdict will not be opened until today.

It is understood, however, that it is in favor of the plaintiff and awards her $500 damages.

NEW CASES.

The following new cases were filed yesterday by the County Clerk:

The Bituminous Lime-rock Paving and Improvement Company sue J. W. Means and others for $739.23.

Fred Eaton sue Doris Jones to quiet title to certain real estate.

W. H. Morris sue Stephen Townsend on a note for $1900.

S. M. Tatewari sue George Foyer for $400 damages and the possession of a bay mare.

GOT HIS JUST DESERTS.

A Chinaman Severely Punished for Insulting a Lady.

A well-known business man in this city met with a singular mishap day before yesterday. When he went home at noon, his wife, who is in a delicate condition, told him that a vegetable Chinaman had just been to the house and had insulted her. On entering the kitchen the heathen made an indecent proposal to the servant girl, and while she was away he pulled her off the couch and was about to rape her.

As soon as the husband learned what had occurred he started in pursuit of the brute and overtook him a short distance from the house, pulled him from the couch and beat him in the most approved fashion. When he got through both eyes were closed, and his face looked as if the flesh had been taken off with a dull hatchet. The angry husband on looking at his right hand found that he had broken two bones in the back of his hand. He was brought to the city and Dr. Ainsworth did all in his power to relieve the poor fellow's suffering.

AN ACCIDENT.

Yesterday morning Yard Switchman Hart, in the employ of the Southern Pacific at San Pedro, met with a painful accident, which injured him so severely that he will be unable to work for a long time.

He was switching freight cars, when he was caught between two box cars and his right shoulder was crushed.

The bone was broken and he was otherwise bruised about the back. He was brought to the city and Dr. Ainsworth did all in his power to relieve the poor fellow's suffering.

NOTES.

The Southern Pacific sent 100 carloads of Southern California products East yesterday.

S. B. Hynes of the Santa Fe left for the East with his family yesterday. Mr. Hynes will be absent a couple of weeks.

Train on all the roads were reported on time yesterday.

A telegram from W. H. Snedaker general manager of the Rock Island at San Francisco, states that the new broad-gauge line will be opened on the 16th inst., for through business. Arrangements are completed to run through Pullman and tourist sleeping cars to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo. The line will be opened with a new and complete equipment, consisting of dining cars, chair cars and day coaches.

The new line passes through the Canon of the Arkansas, Salida, Leadville, Glenwood Springs and Grand Junction.

MAGNIFICENT CHINA.

An $800 Set for Judge Brunson on Exhibition.

At the Crystal Palace is on exhibition a set of china which was especially ordered for Judge Brunson of this city, and which is undoubtedly the finest ever brought to Southern California. It comprises about two hundred pieces and the total value is about $800. There are plates which are worth $4 each and one platter is worth over $100. It is Limoges ware, manufactured in France, and is said to be the finest set sent out from that establishment in recent years. It was designed in accordance with suggestions by Judge Brunson himself, who is an acknowledged connoisseur in chinaware.

The various pieces are of quaint and artistic designs, hand-painted, and each bears the autograph of Judge Brunson and the year 1890. The set will be on exhibition several days and all who are interested in such matters will have a chance to inspect it.

Death of "Rony" Crain.

Corone Weldon yesterday returned from Lancaster, where he went to investigate the death of the child of "Rony" Crain. The Coroner found that the child had met with three severe accidents in as many weeks, and that death resulted from the injuries received.

The child, who threw the brick was only eight years of age. Nothing was done beyond having the inquest papers recorded, as required by law.

Virgil Collette left for his old home in Wisconsin with a view to disposing of his effects in that country that he may spend the balance of his days in Southern California. He has only been in this section a few weeks and while within he has been thoroughly converted and leaving only to return as soon as practicable. His brother, L. P. Collette, and mother are in East Los Angeles, and are here to stay.

Now Ready for Delivery.—THE TIMES Premium Atlas of the World. A complete five-dollar atlas of the world's great! This is what the Times-Mirror Company offers to every person sending one year's cash subscription to THE DAILY TIMES—$10.20 in the city or $9.00 by mail. The same offer is made for five subscriptions to the WEEKLY MIRROR and $10.00 in cash. When the atlas is sent by mail thirty cents postage will be added. This atlas has been specially published upon the order of this company, by the great publishing house of Rand McNally & Co., Chicago, and is uniform with the standard atlas published by them, except that it contains a double-page map of California and bears upon its title page the legend: "THE LOS ANGELES TIMES ATLAS OF THE WORLD." We offer it as the most costly and valuable premium ever given for a single newspaper subscriber. This great premium is now ready for delivery to our patrons.

RUMORS of big movements in the control of the great railroads of the country continue to crop out.

THE Herald thinks that it is time that Buckley retired to private life. Our neighbor has been a long time arriving at this conclusion, but, better late than never.

THE official returns of the election in Alameda county give Markham 9333, Pond 6274 and Bidwell 1900, a plurality for Markham of 3659 and a splendid showing for what is now the banner Republican county of California.

MANY citizens are just now upon the point of "yielding to the urgent solicitations of their friends" to run for municipal office. Strangers, who read the papers just now, must think that American office-seekers are very bashful.

REPORTS from Salt Lake City announce that most of the Angelinos who went up there about a year ago, on the strength of a real estate boom, have cleared out. Cold weather will bring back many prodigal sons to this city.

THE Emperor of Germany seems to be making quite a reputation for himself as a statesman. He has displayed so much moderation and tact as to surprise even his friends, and has, so far, managed to get along very well without Bismarck.

THE changes proposed in the charter would save the city $35,000 a year. Now, if the city could make that other $180,000 a year from the rental of Los Angeles river water for power and irrigation we should be "in clover" and prepared to withstand the shock of a big boom.

THE proposed economies in the new charter will take some of the wind out of the sails of the reform movement, provided these economies are endorsed by the nominees of the Republican party. The Reform party will have to make an extra good showing to offset this move of the Republicans. Meanwhile, the public are likely to be the gainers by the agitation.

A VETERAN writes to THE TIMES from the Soldiers' Home to impress upon the public the fact that the members of the Home who, in visiting Santa Monica or Los Angeles, so conduct themselves as to bring discredit upon the uniform they wear, constitute but a very small minority of the veterans. No well-informed person will believe otherwise. Among so many men there are sure to be a few black sheep. At the same time, these few make themselves very conspicuous and bring disgrace upon the institution. If the regulations of the Home are not sufficient to meet their case, they should be socially ignored by their comrades until they mend their ways.

THERE is a general belief among the mass of the people of this country that too many lawyers are elected to fill official positions. There are, however, certain positions whose incumbents ought evidently to belong to the legal profession, foremost among which are the judgeships. The Farmers' Alliance does not appear to think that even this is necessary as, in a Kansas district, it has elected Judge of a district a man who has never studied law, never was admitted to the bar, and never was in a court in any official capacity. It is announced that the Alliance will send its judge-elect to a university, to study law for sixty days, when he will take his place on the bench. The Alliance must think that it takes less time to acquire a legal education than to grow a crop of potatoes. Such a proceeding as this does not speak very well for the good judgement of the new political party.

WHY DID THEY ACQUIT HIM?

J. M. Damron was yesterday acquitted by a jury of one of the charges of forgery against him.

This Damron affair has attained more notoriety than it otherwise would, from the fact that the accused was elected two years ago on the Republican ticket to the responsible office of a State Assembleman. His indiscretion—to call it by a very mild term—has brought discredit upon the party in this county and placed a weapon in the hands of the enemy, which may have aided in defeating the Republican candidate for the office at the last election.

We are probably safe in saying that there are not a score of intelligent men in Los Angeles who believe Mr. Damron to be innocent of the crime with which he is charged, and of these, twelve constitute the jury which acquitted him—for we know that all juries are "intelligent."

Mr. Damron, who defended himself, in the course of a forty minutes' talk to the jury, did not once deny that he had committed the forgery.

Why, then, was he acquitted in the face of overwhelming evidence?

We believe we are justified in saying, with all due respect for the organized tribunals of justice, that it was the action of the judge upon the bench which largely contributed to what will be generally characterized—and is now by us characterized—as a miscarriage of justice.

In his speech to the jury, the accused denounced the local newspapers, which had to some extent reflected the opinion of the public on the case. He was interrupted by one of the counsel for the prosecution, who appealed to the bench to instruct the accused to confine his argument to matters within the cognizance of the jury. So far from acceding to this request, Judge Cheney said he considered Damron's remarks "eminently proper" and further went out of his way to say that he wondered the accused had not before appealed to the Court for protection from the "outrages" which the press had heaped upon him.

Then followed a scene which was a disgrace to a court of justice. The audience, which apparently consisted mainly of friends of the accused, burst into boisterous applause, clapping their hands and stamping their feet. To this indecent exhibition the judge, who had so severely scored the press for remarks which were fully justified by actions of the accused, administered but a mild rebuke.

Is it any wonder that, under these circumstances, the jury cleared the prisoner, after a deliberation of only half an hour? And are we not justified in charging that the action of Judge Cheney, in publicly sympathizing with the accused, under the criticism with which he had been visited, largely contributed to that acquittal?

It is with much regret that THE TIMES feels called upon to criticize the action of a judge upon the bench, but we do but echo the sentiment of a great majority of the bar when we say that, in this instance, Judge Cheney's course was uncalculated, undignified, unprecedented, and open to grave censure.

FRUITS OF THE DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

The first fruits of the Democratic victories in the East are now being gathered in Wall street. To be sure, they partake of the nature of apples of Sodom, but if the people want that sort of thing, then that undoubtedly is the sort of thing they want.

Without question there is a fever of fear in the money marts of the country that the great Democratic majority in the next Congress will undertake the Cleveland policy of debasing silver, and panic follows. The one now reeling its mad way through the great money centers of the East may safely be attributed to the wholesome dread which the well-known policies of the Democracy always excite whenever it appears that legislation is to be put in its hands.

If the country meets with no greater financial disasters in the next two years than those now disturbing it, it may consider itself very fortunate, for when the hungry and wild-eyed Democracy gets loose in the arena, at Washington, look out for squalls.

AN ANTI-BOYCOTT WEAPON.

When a handful of malcontents and would-be anarchists set out to boycott THE TIMES, about three months ago, they made their onslaught upon the circulation, going so far as to canvass the city in an effort to persuade the people not to take this paper. They resorted to every means at their command, fair or foul, and when they had done their utmost. THE TIMES found itself short a very trifling percentage of its entire subscription list. We took the small number lost as about the measure of their strength, and made no great to-do about the matter either way. Immediately a reaction set in, however, and the circulation of the paper began to climb after its wounded fashion. Not only was the lost ground recovered, but over five hundred names were added to the list within three months. Thus, the average daily circulation of THE TIMES for the week previous to the printers' strike was 6722. The average daily circulation of the paper for the week ending November 8th was 7300—a clear advance of 578.

That shows how the efforts of the impudent mischief-making boycotters are overshadowed by the public.

Taking their cue from what has already happened in the natural drift of affairs, citizens of this community can readily see that there is no better way for them to silently set the stamp of their disapproval on the anarchistic boycott than by boozing the circulation of THE TIMES. We shall not object if it keeps on advancing until it exceeds 10,000 copies daily. Let those who wish to give the bull-dozers a bucketful lend their assistance. They can do good missionary work by subscribing themselves, by sending copies abroad, and by helping to secure the subscriptions of their neighbors. This plan for rebuking and punishing the boycott is feasible, and our subscription books are open.

As for the advertising public, the attempt of the boycotters to interfere with merchants who have done them no harm, and to dictate in what papers they shall or shall not advertise, is the most originally impudent and unwarrantable proceeding yet attempted. Merchants and other advertisers who have the spirit of men—and ours will show that they possess that quality—are quick to resent the threatened interference with their rights and their business.

We here and now put this prediction on record, viz., that the pending attempt of these lawless boycotters to further black-list Los Angeles merchants and others for advertising in THE TIMES will prove the most disastrous move yet made by these reckless men—disastrous, not to the merchants, who have means of protecting themselves, but to the boycotters and their vicious instigators.

A GENTLEMAN in New York, who bore a leading part against Tammany Hall, cabled to Mr. Astor, who has just fallen heir to one of the greatest estates in this country, that there was a citizens' ticket in the field, indorsed by the Republicans and the County Democracy, which had an excellent prospect of success. As a citizen, Mr. Astor was asked to make a contribution toward defraying the expenses of the campaign. This was the cabled reply: "Remain free from all political interests." This was a remarkable statement from the representative of hereditary millions. If this is the stand which our plutocrats are going to take, they will awake one day to find that the vicious elements have appropriated their millions and that they will have to "rustle" for a living like the common herd.

SUIT has been commenced by the city to forfeit the franchise and plant of the Citizens' Water Company, on the ground that the company has demanded and collected from its customers rates in excess of those fixed by an ordinance which took effect in July last. There has been much complaint against this company, not only on account of overcharge, but also in regard to the quality of water supplied. Those who draw their water from this source would be delighted to see the works revert to the city, as they might then expect to get a fluid fit to drink.

AMUSEMENTS.

LOS ANGELES THEATER.—The coming to this city of a military band numbering about fifty strong, and conducted by a leader of established reputation, would appear to be an event of sufficient artistic importance to draw an unusually large audience. Yet the opening entertainment given by Liberal's Band at the theater last night was honored by the attendance of only a fair-sized audience.

The programme contained some excellent selections from classical composers, and there was also an evident desire to cater to popular taste in other pieces given. The orchestra is thorough well drilled and worthy of the very high praise that has been freely bestowed upon it in other cities. Liberal's as a leader is full of fire and energy that, coupled with his magnetic fervor, seem to make a model combination. He runs his band with a skill that commands the admiration of the audience, as evidenced by its repeated demonstrations of applause. As a cornet soloist he also succeeded in winning a ready encore for each selection given.

The singer of the evening, Miss Parepa, was very kindly received and her sweet, though not strong, soprano voice was pleasant to listen to. She is evidently an advanced method of singing, "pretties," which will account for her lack of power. For an encore she gave the famous "Old Folks at Home," with a simplicity and tenderness of expression that might be copied by more pretentious artists.

The band ought to draw big houses during the remainder of the week. There is no doubt that the programme will satisfy the taste, and though the volume of sound is naturally too heavy for the size of the auditorium, that defect is not so prominent as to materially affect the pleasure of listening to their full strength, while for selections of a lighter character the sound is sufficiently well modulated by the attention of the conductor.

The programme for this evening contains selections from Herold, Busoni, Chopin and Scherz. Weber, Flotow, Haydn, Chopin and Scherz.

CONCERT AT BROADWAY HALL.

Mr. Geo. S. Maryland opened his bright new music hall in the Potomac block last night with one of the best programmes ever arranged here. The first number was a duet for baritone and tenor from Sir Julius Benedict's "Lilly of Killarny," sung by Messrs. O. S. Taylor and C. S. Walton. The voices both of such fine individual quality, blended strongly and harmoniously, making a still more perfect whole.

The second number was "Legend" by Wimborne. Miss J. R. Reardon, her debuts a violinist here. Her playing has the tenderness and pathos that speaks nowhere so clearly as in the violin, and she has also an admirable facility. No better playing has been heard here since the departure of Miss Lizzie Heine.

Miss Augustine Berger played Moszkowsky's "Romantic Musical" and "Raff's "Erlanger." Her playing is very keen, though not strong, soprano voice was pleasant to listen to. She is evidently an advanced method of singing, "pretties," which will account for her lack of power. For an encore she gave the famous "Old Folks at Home," with a simplicity and tenderness of expression that might be copied by more pretentious artists.

The third number was "Sancta Maria" and "Adelaide" by the famous violinist, Miss Katharine Kimball, who chose two odd and characteristic songs by Adolph Jensen. These songs were well fitted to bring out the strength and roundness of Miss Kimball's fine voice, with its range and its enchanting mezzo quality so rare in a soprano.

The hall was filled with representative people and many musicians, and was as enthusiastic throughout as the programme fully deserved of them.

Cody's Indians Show No Signs of Ill-Treatment.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The steamer Belgenland, having on board Maj. Burke and thirty-nine Sioux Indians of the Oyallalab tribe, who have been in Europe with the Cody-Salsbury Wild West Show, arrived this morning. Gen. O'Brien, Assistant Emigrant Commissioner at New York and Herbert Welch, secretary of the Indian Rights Association of Philadelphia, were present for the purpose of taking the statement of the Indians regarding the alleged ill-treatment they received in Europe.

The Indians looked well and bore no exterior evidence of ill-treatment. An interview between Maj. Burke and Welch, the former said that he was going to take the Indians to Washington, and was willing for Welch to make an investigation there.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The stock market today, while still very active, showed less excitement in early trading, and afterward subsided into its ordinary appearance, with only the usual fluctuations.

A GENTLEMAN in New York, who bore a leading part against Tammany Hall, cabled to Mr. Astor, who has just fallen heir to one of the greatest estates in this country, that there was a citizens' ticket in the field, indorsed by the Republicans and the County Democracy, which had an excellent prospect of success. THE RED BANDANA.

Allen G. Thurman Honored by the Democracy.

The Old Roman Celebrates His Seventy-seventh Birthday.

A Great Gathering of the Clans at His Columbus Home.

Speeches by Judge Thurman, Ex-President Cleveland and Gen. Ewing—A Banquet with 1000 Guests.

By Telegraph to The Times.

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The capital of Ohio in the veritable mecca of Democracy. To this city have come the Democrats of the country at large to pay homage to the "Old Roman," Allen G. Thurman, on the occasion of his 77th birthday. All day Mr. Thurman has been the recipient of attentions which few American statesmen have enjoyed after their retirement from the arena of politics, and to every caller, high or low, he has extended with kindly smiles the genial hand of good fellowship. The magnificence of the celebration today and the banquet tonight is a token of the esteem in which Judge Thurman is held by the Democrats of Ohio and the country at large.

Throughout the entire day every incoming train brought Democrats of prominence from all sections of the United States, until tonight the scene can be likened to no gathering more than a national convention.

MR. CLEVELAND'S ARRIVAL.

One of the first to arrive this morning was ex-President Cleveland. He was accorded a most enthusiastic reception by the citizens, who gathered at the depot, his progress through the streets to the Executive Mansion being followed by a shouting crowd. Throughout the day the ex-President shared with Judge Thurman the felicitations of the Democratic leaders who called to pay their respects. The ex-President first went from the depot to the Executive Mansion, and during the forenoon had a public reception at the Statehouse, a Presidential salute of twenty-one guns being fired outside.

From early morning the corridors of the Statehouse were thronged with people. Ex-Private Secretary Lamont, Gov. Campbell and many prominent Democrats were present. At the reception, in the course of which the enthusiasm of the people knew no bounds, the remark was often heard from men while shaking hands with Mr. Cleveland: "You will be

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT."

At the conclusion of the reception Mr. Cleveland drove to Judge Thurman's residence and congratulated him on his 77th anniversary, assuring him that the Democracy of the nation were rejoiced at his continued vigor and hoped that he might be spared for many years of usefulness.

Judge Thurman replied that no years or future sets of years could possibly increase the warmth of the congratulations he had received today from all parts of the United States. Mr. Cleveland then returned to Gov. Campbell's mansion, where he and a few friends were entertained at luncheon.

THE BANQUET.

The banquet hall tonight was decorated in the most beautiful manner. The celebration was under the auspices of the Thurman Club, which had charge of the arrangements. Noticeable among the decorations were large portraits of Thurman and Cleveland.

Among the guests were senators and ex-senators, ex-congressmen and congressmen-elect; governors, ex-governors and governors-elect, besides gentlemen who have distinguished themselves in various channels of public and private life. Shortly after 8 o'clock ex-President Cleveland and Judge Thurman entered the room, Mr. Cleveland supporting his venerable companion, who, further assisted by a cane, walked slowly up the hall. A mighty cheer, often repeated, greeted the two distinguished guests, continuing until the chairman motioned to take their seats.

After the party was seated every man arose again and waved the handkerchief in honor of the "Old Roman." Mr. Thurman bowed to his 1000 admirers, and Mr. Cleveland did likewise, as cheers for him rent the air. At the conclusion of the banquet Chairman Lentz of the Thurman Club made a brief speech introducing Toast-Master Congressman Outhwaite. When Mr. Outhwaite delivered a brief eulogy on Judge Thurman the guests arose to their feet again, and the scene of wild enthusiasm was one that would have swelled with pride the heart of any human being. It was five minutes before the ovation subsided sufficiently to allow Judge Thurman to respond.

ON THE DOWN GRADE.

The Aged Judge Makes an Eloquent Speech to His Friends.

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Judge Thurman responded to the toast, "Our Guests." He said in beginning that he was not here tonight to make an elaborate speech. He was here to express his heartfelt appreciation of the honor they have so kindly seen fit to do him, to thank with his whole soul his neighbors, fellow-citizens of Ohio and the distinguished gentlemen from other States for their mark of friendship and esteem. He continued:

I am here, at the age of 77, to repeat my testimony, so often given, of my confidence in the beneficial effects of free institutions and my firm belief in their duration on this continent and their gradual but certain extension over the world, and larger still in the new world as has ever been in comparison with the life of the nation, it has been long enough for me to see my native land, under free institutions, increase in population more than seven-fold, in wealth a very far greater degree, in extent of territory, more than double its area in the general well-being and prosperity of its people and in their educational advantages and religious privileges.

WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD, While its magnificent works of internal improvement, its wonderful agriculture, its great cities and manufactures and its marvelous means of communication, creations of science and skill, have surpassed anything before known by the human race.

And in these same seventy-seven years the course of nearly every country in Europe has been reversed, and the introduction of more liberal principles. Central and South America have become republics, Canada and Australia are substantially republics without the name; even in the far East, Japan becomes more free and liberal with each year, and, more marvelous yet, light seems to be breaking over benighted Africa and men are predicting, without exciting ridicule, her redemption from her barbarism.

SLEEP OF CENTURIES.

In a word, freedom seems to be circumnavigating the globe, and proud thought for us, the polar star of the navigator is our own republic of the United States.

Judge Thurman spoke feelingly of the uniform kindness and honors bestowed upon him by the people of Ohio from boyhood to old age, and spoke of all the distinguished lawyers and statesmen of Ohio and other sections of the country whom he had known during his career. In conclusion he said:

Before I conclude there is one statement I feel it my duty to make. In one of our town papers, a few days ago, I say my name suggested as follows:

A PROPER CANDIDATE

for the Presidency or Vice Presidency. In 1892, I regretted very much to see the suggestion, for appearing in a paper known to be very friendly to me, and published in the place of my residence, it might naturally be suspected by strangers that it was inspired, or at least approved by me; but such was not the fact. My friends, let me assure you, are sincere, and without the least hesitation I declare that I am not, nor shall I ever again be, a candidate for office. I have been sufficiently honored by my party, and neither ask nor desire any further honor than continued friendliness and good will. Gentlemen, you have gladdened the heart and brightened the footsteps of an old man, your devoted friend in the descent of the hill of life, who has almost reached the foot. May God bless you all, is his earnest prayer.

MR. CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

His One Idea Dressed Up in the Same Old Phrases.

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Ex-President Cleveland next responded to the toast, "American Citizenship." He said in part:

I follow the promptings of a heart full of devotion and resolution as I tender a vote of thanks to the Democracy of the great State of New York her tribute of affection for the man whom we honor tonight.

I am commissioned to claim for my State her full share of the glory which has been shed upon the American name and character by one whose career and example cannot be paralleled by whose equals can never be found in its own country or in the nations and friends of any locality. We rejoice in the example afforded on this occasion of genuine American citizenship, revealed to us as a safe and infallible interpreter of duty in all emergencies; of a long and honorable public career and its unfailing guide to usefulness and in the atmosphere of truth, justice and right.

Other SPEECHES.

Gen. Ewing Talks of His Party's Taxation Principles.

Gen. Ewing's Talk of His Party's Taxation Principles.

COLONIAL (O.) Nov. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Gen. Thomas Ewing responded to "The Democratic Party in Relation to Future Public Economy." In the course of his speech he said:

Since the war the great industries of the country have been concentrated in the hands of a few great corporations created by the people and subject to their control. These vast powers are rapidly multiplying millions and destroying the industrial independence of the masses. As Democrats in the broadest sense we must check this growing evil, as far as the means will permit. We must go to a national tariff policy. The Republican party has enacted a tariff for protection only, leaving 63,000 consumers to be plundered by the protected manufacturers.

Gen. Ewing said that the federal income and inheritance of taxes should be, and he believes will be, restored by the Democracy. They should be imposed in raising revenues by both State and federal governments.

Small incomes and inheritances should be wholly exempt, and the tax should be graduated so as to increase with the amount of inheritance or income.

Railway and municipal corporations, he said, should be regulated by the State to rescue the masses from undue exaction.

Ex-Senator McDonald responded to "The Senate," Congressman Breckinridge of Kentucky to "The Democracy in America," Hon. W. K. Wilson to "The House of Representatives," Hon. Don M. Dickinson of Michigan to "The Democracy of the Future," and Gov. Campbell to "The State of Ohio." Several other addresses were made.

DEPENDS UPON ITS HOMES.

I have spoken of frugality and economy as important factors in the American life. I find no fault with the accumulation of wealth and am glad to see energy and enterprise receive their fair reward, but I believe that our government in its natural integrity is exactly suited to a frugal and energetic people. I believe that it is the surest guarantee of the strength and purity of the republic, has its source in the American home. Here our patriotism is born and entwines itself with the growth of filial love, and here our children are taught the story of our freedom and independence; but above all, here in the bracing atmosphere of the schools, we find the moral and economic, mental and moral attributes of our people have been firmly knit and invigorated. Never could it be said of any country so truly as of ours that the permanency of its institutions with which they are endowed should be devoted to an understanding of its needs and the promotion of its welfare.

It should never be forgotten that the influence which more than all other things, has made our people safe depositaries of governmental power, is that of family life. In the hands of those who have been made strong and self-reliant in their citizenship by self-denial and by the surroundings of an enforced economy.

When, therefore, men in high places of trust, charged with the responsibility of making and executing our laws, not only condemn but apparently deride cheapness and economy, and the integrity of our people, and when the expenditures of the government are reckless and wasteful, we must be sure that something is wrong with us and that a condition exists which calls for the vigorous and resolute defense of Americanism by every man worthy to be called an American citizen. Upon the question of cheapness and economy, whether it relates to individuals or the operations of the Government, the Democratic party, true to its creed, will unmercifully remain attached to our plain and frugal people. When the question is raised whether our people shall have the

NECESSARIES OF LIFE.

At cheaper rates, we are not ashamed to confess ourselves in full sympathy with the demand for cheaper costs, and we are not disturbed by the hint that this seems necessarily to involve a cheaper man or woman under the coats.

When the promoter of a party measure which invades every home in the land with higher prices declares that cheap and nasty go together, and this whole system of cheap things is a badge of poverty—for cheap merchandise is cheap only to the poor, we may be sure that something is wrong with us and that a condition exists which calls for the vigorous and resolute defense of Americanism by every man worthy to be called an American citizen.

I will not refer to other utterances of like import from similar sources. I content myself with recalling the most prominent and significant. The wonder is that these things were addressed by Americans to Americans. What was the occasion of these condemnations, these epithets? It is hard to speak patiently as we answer.

And to prove economy and frugality is un-American.

Thus we so plainly see that when the path pointed out by patriotism and American citizenship is forsaken by the party in power for schemes of selfishness and unscrupulous conspiracies for partisan success, the course inevitably leads to unjust favoritism, neglect of the interests of the masses, the entire perversion of republican institutions and in some form a most impudent and outrageous insult to true American sentiment.

But the people of the United States, the countrymen should be fully re-established.

The revolution is still heard through the land, the people have just demonstrated that there is a point beyond which they cannot be led by blind partisanship, and that they are quite competent to examine and correctly decide political questions concerning their rights and their welfare.

They have also shown that they are not to be led by blind partisanship, and that they are quite competent to examine and correctly decide political questions concerning their rights and their welfare.

THE CHICAGO EXHIBIT.

Why it Will Not Do to Sell Goods.

LETTER FROM MAJ. TRUMAN

What He Is Doing to Advance the Interests of Southern California—How the Exhibit is Regarded.

CHICAGO Nov. 8.—Col. H. G. Otis, General Manager Times—MY DEAR COLONEL: In your paper of the 3d inst. you mention, among other things concerning the permanent exhibit, that the "manager says the people are all highly pleased with the display and would pay good prices for the fruits etc., if he was allowed to sell them," etc. There have been many visitors who have declared that they would like to purchase some of the dried fruits, canned goods and lemon juice that I remember; and I have said to all such that "we are not allowed to sell or take orders, but can give you the address of all contributors and of Chicago stores that sell Southern California goods." I have used about that phraseology, because it was laconic, convenient and polite. But, all the same, it would be a great mistake to sell anything, as you will admit after noting what I say, thus:

In the first place, it would turn an exhibit into a store, and it would be neither the one or the other really.

Secondly, It would take an extra man, and run up clerical expenses all round, and what diners we would take in would cost us dollars to get.

Thirdly, I would have to pay a license, and all the stores that are now friendly to the exhibit would be unfriendly to us as sellers of goods in their line.

Fourthly, Buyers would want the most select things, which would leave us only an indifferent lot for purposes of exhibit.

Fifthly, It would be most unsatisfactory to the exhibitors, or contributors, I may say. In other words, A. B. of San Diego might take exceptions to my selling his half a dozen plates of choice quinces and apples and lemons, and withholding from sale the fine varieties of C. D. of Orange; or if I managed so get off the decaying lot of pears and peaches for $1 or $2 for E. F. of Los Angeles, G. H. of San Bernardino would want to know why I didn't get rid of his spoiling articles at the same time. Without further enlarging upon this point, you will readily perceive that this would be the cause of great disturbance. Nineteen out of every twenty would declare that there had been either ignorance or partiality. Besides, sales would be generally unsatisfactory, and no one, probably, would be fully pleased.

Sixthly, The Santa Fe, which transports the exhibits free, would not do so if the articles transported are to be put up for sale. It would be unfair to the company which gives the hall and transportation of exhibits free.

Seventhly, The hall is not capacious enough for both an exhibit and a place for sale of goods.

Eighthly, I am sufficiently grounded in the knowledge of human nature to know that blame, scandal and possibly vilification would be the result. My assistant, Mr. Nolan, has written me that he favors the sale of fruits, etc., but I have written him that he is mistaken, and that the exhibit and ourselves would be greatly the losers by any such movement.

So much for the economic side of this controversy. Its moral side scarcely needs to be elaborated. It is known and read of all men in Monday police courts, in the columns of Monday newspapers, and in tales of woe with which the world is filled.

Plays nowadays are boomed in many ways. A real novelty in advertising has been discovered by an energetic manager. New York is soon to be flooded with English playbills announcing the great success of a play in a London theater, and the fact that the boxes are £1 and the pit 2s. 6d. with standing room only after 8 o'clock. These bills are supposed to start the play with English approval. Sunday Closing of Saloons.

LOS ANGELES, NO. 12.—[To the editor of THE TIMES.] The City Council of Los Angeles has ordered an election for Tuesday, November 18, to test the popular sentiment on the Sunday closing of saloons. It is agreed on the part of a majority of the Council that if the vote cast shall favor such action an ordinance securing Sunday closing shall be forthcoming. It is pertinent, in view of this election and agreement, to look somewhat into the reasons and arguments held by the friends of Sunday closing.

In the first place, the authority of the City Council to pass such an ordinance has been clearly settled, and the vote asked for is only in the way of instruction or moral support.

The rightness of any public policy inheres in its moral, social or economic bearing. The present issue is not a religious or political one, but is made on moral and economic grounds. The advantages that accrue to the moral and physical man through one day of rest from the distractions of labor are generally conceded. By the common consent of Christendom, the first day of the week has been designated as the most fitting time for such rest.

Another day, if as generally agreed upon, would serve the same use. As a matter of fact, however, a vast majority of the people do actually refrain from ordinary labor on the first day of the week; and even in our own State of California, where there is no statutory recognition of the Christian Sabbath, there is a general cessation of trade and labor on that day. The saloon business is the one notable exception to the rule, even in California. But it is pretty well understood the employees of saloons would be glad of this privilege, and it has been even intimated that many, if left to their own choice, would vote for Sunday closing; but the pecuniary interests of their employers demand seven days' work and they have no choice but to serve or be dispensed with. The present agitation looks to the relief of these, as well as to other ends.

The unrestricted opening of saloons on Sunday gives the drink trade an undue advantage of all other trades, in this, that it practically monopolizes the day when most of the laboring population is unemployed and when they have most money in hand. Custom and the moral sense of the people are such that the dry goods, supply and grocery trade is of no value on the first day of the week. This is helped also by the fact that those usually engaged in these lines are not disposed to solicit or prosecute trade on that day. Why should the drink traffic, to say the least, is no more essential to the public comfort than these before-mentioned lines, be permitted to continue to outrage the moral sense and propriety of the community by making its waves especially attractive and an occasion of offense when the legitimate trades are at rest?

Few deny that the saloons stand for an evil. "A necessary evil" some assume to say—but an evil. Few deny that the business is degrading to the morals and destructive of the comforts of a large class. Our own State, which, in common with most other American States, licenses this business, sees in it a menace to the public peace and suspends it wholly by a stern fight on election day. The city of Los Angeles has restricted the operations of the saloons by closing them at 12 o'clock midnight every day of the week and keeping them closed until a late hour of the morning. This for cause; that is, the hours of general slumber are supposed to be on after midnight. The police force is thrown on its own strength in silent and largely deserted thoroughfares. A disturbance of the peace at such a time might be attended with great danger to the sleeping populace. Why not extend this precaution to the Sabbath, a time of general relaxation of vigilance, and when the people are practically undefended? Besides this, a great proportion of the population, unrestrained by the demands of labor or religious conviction, are at the mercy of there debauchery of public morals. Wayward young men and defenseless boys in great multitudes are drawn into this maelstrom of Sunday drink. The temptation to the laborers to drink and squander their hard-earned pittances are multiplied a thousand times by the Sunday saloon.

This is Sunday liquor traffic has another advantage of the legitimate trades in this, that many a dollar that goes into the bar-room till on the Sabbath should by rights be reserved until Monday for the already overdue bill of the grocer, druggist, milkman or other creditor.

Seventhly, The hall is not capacious enough for both an exhibit and a place for sale of goods.

Eighthly, I am sufficiently grounded in the knowledge of human nature to know that blame, scandal and possibly vilification would be the result. My assistant, Mr. Nolan, has written me that he favors the sale of fruits, etc., but I have written him that he is mistaken, and that the exhibit and ourselves would be greatly the losers by any such movement.

IN THE CARLTON CLUB YESTERDAY, PROVED A TERRIFIC SUCCESS; SO MUCH SO THAT IT WILL BE REPEATED TODAY.THE FRONT END OF THE LARGE ROOM WAS HANDSOMELY ARRANGED. A BOOTH ARTI-

TERED, WAS SET APART FOR THE SALE OF
FANCY ARTICLES, WHICH WERE DISPLAYED

WERE ESPECIALLY DESIGNED FOR HOLIDAY

OF IN LARGE QUANTITIES AND AT REASONABLE
PRICES. THE LUNCH TABLES OCCUPIED
THE REAR OF THE ROOM. THIS PART OF THE FESTIVAL PROVED SO POPULAR THAT MANY PERSONS HAD TO WAIT CONSIDERABLE TIME
BEFORE SECURING SEATS AT THE TABLE.
THE BILL OF FARE, AS SET DOWN ON AN ATTRACTIVELY-ARRANGED CARD, WAS EXTENSIVE, AND THE EDIBLES WERE WELL COOKED. THE OYSTER SOUP IN THE EVENING WAS EQUALLY WELL PATRIMIZED. THE PROCEEDS
OF THE DAY NETTED A HANDSOME SUM.THE ATTENDANTS WORE CAPS THE COLOR OF CORN, WHICH OCCUPIED A PROMINENT PLACE ON THE MENU CARD. THE WINDOWS WERE HANDSOMELY ORNAMENTED WITH FLOWERS, AND ON THE PAVEMENT IN FRONT
A POP CORN STAND WAS IN LIVELY OPERATION
DURING THE DAY, AND DID A LIVELY BUSINESS.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

Friday, Nov. 14.

Trade will always follow the true reformer. When a merchant undergoes competition the people will find and follow him. Such has been the history of our success, from the day we started our little place on Main street, in the early 80's, and such has been the means of our placing line upon line inside our four walls, and adding to it till time each of our thirty-two different departments have become fully equipped stores by themselves.

The Republicans of the West End will meet at No. 1254 Temple street this evening. A full attendance is expected, as matters of importance will come up.

The Board of Public Works made the usual trip about the city yesterday afternoon. The regular meeting of the board will be held to-morrow.

A park and bookshop excursion to Arrowhead Hot Springs leaves via Pasadena at 8:30 Sunday morning, returning at 9:30 Monday morning or 10:15 via Riverside.

Township Justice-elect Stanton yesterday filed his official bond with the County Clerk, with W. H. Workman, George H. Snato and Jacob Frankenfeld as sureties.

The Lincoln Club will meet at the rooms at the corner of Requena and Main streets this evening at 7:30 o'clock, when the city election will be discussed. Everybody is invited.

One of the trucks of a cable-car left the track in turning the curve at the First and Spring-street corner last evening about 6:30 o'clock. No damage was done and the car was soon lifted on the track again and continued its lift.

There were no new developments yesterday in the County Recruit's office. Mr. Francis has filed a bond up to the last evening, but will try and do so today. Mr. Harclay still has the combination of the safe, but will give it to Mr. Francis as soon as all the stragglers out and he is out of the business.

The seventh annual convention of the Los Angeles County Sabbath School Association, which was to have been held in this city on the 18th and 19th inst., has been postponed until the 25th and 26th, and is expected that about one thousand delegates will be in attendance.

THE "McKINLEY BILL."

Does not affect Coffees, but it requires very little intelligence to know that Coffees roasted on the spot, where consumed, must be preferable to any that is roasted thousands of miles away—sealed or not sealed. I have given this branch of my business the closest attention for over twenty years, selecting the best green Coffees and roasting them day by day, just as my trade requires. By this plan I have built up a trade on roasted Coffees second to none on the Coast.
